PREFATORY NOTE

A legislative measure relating to Employers liability being under consideration in Congress, this List has been prepared showing some of the material in the Library upon the subject.

It is restricted to writings treating of the measures for compensation to workingmen for injuries caused by accident in their work wherein the employer is held personally responsible.

It does not take account of compulsory insurance for workingmen unless the principle of personal liability of employers is embodied in the legislation.

The field of workingmen's insurance will be covered by a list to be published within the near future.
